THE ELEPHANT HUNT

By Alison Whitney

It was a bright, sunny day. Bobby and Billy were playing in the yard behind Bobby's house. After a while they were bored, and wanted an adventure.

"I've got an idea," Bobby said. "Let's hunt for elephants in the woods."

"That's a great idea!" Billy said. "Let's do it!"

Illustration No. 2

They went into the house to pack for their hunting trip, and Bobby found some string. It might come in handy if they needed to make a leash to lead the elephant home. Billy found a backpack and he filled it with all sorts of supplies that hunters might need. He put in a jar of peanuts, just in case the elephant was hungry.
